

Six practical things for churches to try to reach the 'nones' in your area/network

Have a go at creating positive Tik Tok videos about faith and Jesus

There are over 6 million active users of Tik Tok in the UK. Have a go at recording some content which reflects your life and faith.

Start a fresh expression of Church with 'nones' in mind

Help the 'nones' around you have access to an 'enriching and compelling community of faith' by starting something new just for them..

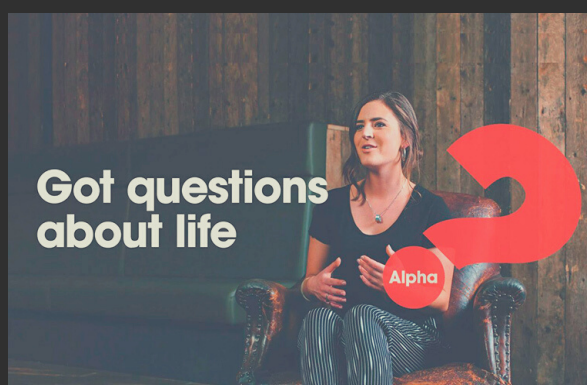

Encourage Christians in their 20s and 30s to blog and vlog about their faith

Who isn't influenced by inspiring, real-life stories? If you've got Christians in their 20s and 30s in your church support them to be open about sharing their faith.

Go Green!

'Nones' and Christians share a passion for saving the environment. Consider setting up a Green or Eco group/church and inviting 'nones' to get involved.

Got questions about life

Invite people to Alpha

Over 1.3 million people turned to Alpha in 2020, many of them in the 'nones' demographic. Alpha aims to reach people with little or no previous understanding of the Christian faith, giving them a safe space to explore. Why not have a go?

Think about using Table Talk questions to get conversations started

Table Talk is a conversational game which creates space for the big and not-so-big question of life. Could it, or something like it, be useful to you and your church to get the ball rolling?

If you try any of these do let us know how they work and please send any other ideas you have to info@reachingthenones.org
